Program Overview

In today's rapidly evolving business landscape – defined by complexity, competition, and constant change – leaders must go beyond traditional problem-solving. Success now depends on the ability to think differently – to make faster and more adaptive decisions. Effective leadership demands smarter thinking. Leaders must balance creativity with critical judgment to solve problems, challenge assumptions, and make sound, evidence-based decisions.

This program is designed for senior management looking to sharpen their ability to develop and execute successful enterprise strategies that drive meaningful business outcomes. It will equip participants with the mindset and tools to combine creative insight and analytical rigor to drive innovation, clarity, and smarter decisions in dynamic environments. Participants will learn to foster breakthrough ideas, analyse challenges, and propose bold, practical solutions that align with organisational goals.

Learning will be via interactive lectures, case studies, simulations, and group discussions.

Learning Outcomes

- Cultivate creativity and transform original ideas into practical innovations using the Invention Cycle.
- Apply the Six Thinking Hats to explore challenges from multiple perspectives - emotional, analytical, optimistic, cautious, creative, and process-oriented.
- Use mental models to enhance reasoning, challenge assumptions, and make better-informed decisions.
- Recognise and mitigate biases and groupthink that limit effective thinking and collaboration.
- Integrate creative and critical thinking to drive innovation and smarter decision-making within teams and organizations.
